

Vocab Sheet

Dead air 2.1 Solid British copper

Keep up with (phr v) – to maintain the original speed, to understand something, to continue doing something, for example "Patrick, I don't know about you but I couldn't keep up with that lecture on chocolate prophylactics, didn't understand it at all!"

Give up (phr v) – to stop doing something, most people 'give something up' voluntarily for lent, which is explained in this episode

Above and beyond the call of duty (exp) - to do or perform something in addition of what is required, to do more than is expected of you

Heartfelt (adj) – to be sincere, to be genuine, to really mean something that you say or do

Handy (adj) – synonym for useful, it can also refer to a person that is capable with their hands, in terms of fixing, repairing and building things Hint (n/v) – to reveal a part of something, to give some information that partly reveals the answer or helps an individual in understanding something Cockerel (n) – a male chicken the one that wakes up the farm Spouting nonsense (exp) – to spout means to expel something, usually liquid, at speed. This expression means a person is talking quite a lot of rubbish (nonsense) and in the podcast is falsely directed at Ben Rooster (n) – see cockerel

Omen (n) – a sign that something bad is going to happen, also a terrifying film in which a child is suspected to be the Devil.

Collate (v) – bring things together, specifically data or experience Kick off (phr v/n) – to start something, the beginning of something Pearls of wisdom (exp) – the knowledge and experience of an individual collated over years and transformed into dense, well presented phrases and advice

Unstitching (v) – to stitch means to connect things using thread with the negative prefix this means to disconnect or unattach something, in this context Merrick refers to the 'unstitching' of the advice he had planned to present

Post-it (n) – little (typically yellow) pieces of paper used to write things like 'BUY MILK' and attach to the fridge to be ignored, in Scotland they are used to cover the walls

Rapidfire (adj/exp) - to do something very quickly

Penpal (n) – a person that lives in another country that you write to, often to practice a second language. Before the internet this was how people dated Ties into (phr v) – when two pieces of information share a connection, to intentionally bring information together

Bury your nose in (exp) - to become very involved in something, specifically study, or literature for example "Patrick, I just couldn't put that book you lent me down, I've had my nose buried in 'Dog's in Victorian tunics' since last week!"

Stumbling blocks (n) - synonym - obstacles, things that get in your way, objects, distractions and so on that prevent an easy start to something Ring a/any bell(s) (exp) - to remind someone of something, to have a familiarity

Earnest (adj) - synonym - honest, sincere

Chap (n) - synonym - man, specifically a gentleman

Run out of steam (exp) - to have no more energy, to not be able to continue

The senses (n) - there are five basic senses - smell, touch, taste, sight, hearing and the sixth sense

Sniff (v) – synonym – to smell something, to breath in through the nose once in an effort to smell something, or because you have a cold

Nigella Lawson (n) – a very naughty chef, the Goddess of the kitchen, the pounder of beef, moulder of dumplings and purveyor of puddings

Parlour (n) – not so common nowadays, but the part of a kitchen, usually a small separate room where certain foods are kept cool

Pull 'things' together (exp) - see 'tie into'

A 'get-together' (n) - synonym - party, gathering

Nosh (n) - synonym - food, use with 'top' for a delightfully Southern colloquial expression - TOP NOSH

(A) bellyfull (of) (n) - to be full of food or drink, connect with a noun as an intensifier for example "Patrick, I can hardly move, I've had a bellyfull of Nigella's cream tarts". Can also be used as a n expression to say that you are tired of someone and their complaints. "I've had a bellyful of your complaining!"

Steak and kidney pie (n) – a typically English dish, consisting of steak and kidney. Pie's really are great though

(To feel/be) stuffed (adj) - see 'a bellyfull'

Groan/grunt (n/v) - a short sound usually made when in distress, the sound a zombie might make

(Winter) fare (n) – synonym – food, this is a very old word, however, Merrick hasn't upgraded his vocabulary since the 80's

Billy and his blue ball (n) – a reference to a series of children's books (To be) put off (phr v) – to have your opinion changed so that you are no longer interested in it, to change your mind about something

(As) clear as mud (exp) - when something is not clear at all, something is not easy to understand

Podgy (adj) - synonym - chubby, fat, fond of the doughnut tray

Squeak (n/v) – a small, high-pitched sound, often associated with a mouse or confused Scottish women

Different strokes for different folks (exp) – different people do things in different ways, have different preferences

Lose heart (exp) - to lose enthusiasm for something

Overlord (n) - a ruler, usually evil

Copper (n) - a type of cheap metal

(The) tip of the iceberg (exp) - when there is a lot more to something than is known or visible, the enemy of the Titanic